The Barn

Tucked away at the rear of the North Hill hotel is a rare example of an original 'Hall House' built in the late 15th century. It had been lying idle for many years and left to become virtually derelict. Now sympathetically restored, we are pleased to be able to offer our function room.

Our function room caters for meetings, private dining or small weddings for up to 30 people, please ask a member of staff for details or to be shown around.

- a Green Room is a room in a theatre, studio, or other public venue for the accommodation of actors or speakers when not required on the stage. Its function is as a break/touch-up lounge so that performers do not have to go back to dressing rooms and are still easily accessible for their call. The term is often attributed to the area historically being painted green -
